Christian Contentment

Pierced Themselves with Many Pangs: Pressing Reasons for Christian Contentment

Colossians 3:5; Ephesians 5:5; Matthew 6:24; 1 Timothy 6:9-10

I. Covetousness exposes an idolatrous heart (Col. 3:5; Eph. 5:5).

A. Covetousness honors temporal things before the eternal God.

B. Those set on temporal things won't go to be with the eternal God at death.

II. Covetousness demands complete submission (Mt. 6:24).

A. There are only two masters in life: God and money.

B. You can only serve one of those two masters.

III. Covetousness sinks the soul (1 Tim. 6:9-10).

A. The covetous sink in sin.

B. The covetous stray from the faith.
