Neutrality & Ancient Pagan Documents

1. You're biology teacher says "The question of the origin of the human species is a scientific question not a religious one. Science follows a very rigorous set of objective criteria and does not allow religious beliefs to interfere with its conclusions. It's okay to have your religious beliefs but you shouldn't confuse that with unbiased scientific facts." What is wrong with this? Is the study of human evolution religiously neutral? Why or why not?
2. What are the three things the religious neutrality myth claims?
3. Why is it that the ancient pagan text Enuma elish couches a political and religious message in a creation story?
4. In the Epic Star Wars, what did Spielberg do with God?
5. If you are going to read a book (even Christian), take a class or watch a movie what should you always do before? Why
6. What were the similarities between Enuma elish and Genesis 1?
7. What were the differences between Enuma elish and Genesis 1?
8. What is the most fundamental thing we can learn from the Bible?
9. Does God need the creation? Why or why not?
