

C.A.R.E. Group Questions 2/10/19

1. Do you agree that all preaching, no matter the text, should ultimately be doxological? Why or why not?
2. Is an understanding of the Old Testament narrative essential to having an orthodox understanding of the New Testament? Discuss.
3. Can you think of other places where New Testament authors use Old Testament references and narratives to point to Christ or the church (that would not have initially been seen as applying to Messiah) as Paul does with Psalm 68?
4. When studying the use of the Old Testament in the New Testament, why is our understanding of inspiration and inerrancy so important?
5. You know where your pastor stands, but do you think either of the other two possible "descents" of Jesus makes more sense? If so, why?
