

The Importance of Healthy Doctrine in the Local Church

Intro:

In Matthew 16:18, Jesus promises that He will most certainly build His church. However, the context and climate in which He will build His church is in the face of opposition.

In the NT, Satan carries out his attacks against the church primarily in one of three ways:

1. Physical persecution

- This is most clearly seen in the book of Revelation, as those who “belong” to Satan act as his messengers and agents to physically harm God’s people, as well as hinder the church’s influence.

2. Spiritual opposition

- Just as Satan opposed the Lord Jesus during His earthly ministry, so he continues to do to the Lord’s bride.
  - As in Zechariah 3, the Satan loves to tempt God’s people to doubt God’s goodness towards, as well as love for them. One of his most effective strategies to stymy God’s people is to condemn them and rob them of their assurance of salvation.

3. Doctrinal confusion

- This seems to be the most prevalent form of attack that the church must endure.
- The reason why this is Satan’s favorite form of attack is because it is the most effective tool in his kit.

Though Jesus has many warnings for His followers will have to endure in the “last days,”<sup>1</sup> much of His teaching has to do with being on their guard against false teachers who will seek to lead them astray:

- Matthew 24:4 – The very first thing Jesus says about the last days is, “See<sup>2</sup> that no one leads you astray. For many will come in My name, saying, ‘I am the Christ,’ and they will lead many astray.”
- Matthew 24:11 – “And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray.”
- Matthew 24:24 – “For false christs and false prophets will arise and perform great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect.”

Since this is so, Jesus’ disciples are repeatedly commanded to “stay awake.”<sup>3</sup>

Part of God’s plan to protect His church is the provision of faithful pastors who will shepherd the sheep with the crook of God’s Word:

- Titus 1:9 – “[Elders] must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that [they] might be able to give instruction in sound [literally “healthy”] doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it.”
  - The Greek word for “rebuke” (ἐλέγχω) is related to word for shedding light upon something, and often carries the nuance “to expose.”
  - The best way to spot a counterfeit is to so know the original that any deviation from it is immediately spotted. In addition, a special UV light is often used to test counterfeit money.

<sup>2</sup> The verb “to see” (βλέπετε, blepete) is in the present, highlighting the ongoing nature of the command. In Mark 13:9, Jesus says, literally, “As for you, keep watching yourselves” (ESV = “But be on your guard”).

<sup>3</sup> Again, the verb (γρηγορέω) is in the present tense. Mark uses this verb 3X in chapter 13 and 3X in chapter 14 to highlight the importance and necessity of making sure we don’t doze off in spiritual complacency, as such persons are easy prey for false teachers.

→ Regarding this metaphor, we might say, then, that the Word of God is that standard by which all teaching is tested, as well as the light by which all counterfeits are exposed.

Why is Paul so adamant that Titus make establishing a biblical plurality of elders in the church his first priority in Crete?

- We are told in the very next verses: “For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach” (Titus 1:10-11).
  - It seems that some false teachers had “crept in” to the Cretian congregation, and rather than focusing on the preaching the gospel, were instead “devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth” (1:14).
  - This is dangerous stuff. Not only were entire households being “upset,” but this teaching was turning its adherents away from the truth of the gospel.
- And as Paul repeatedly teaches in Titus, what we believe affects how we live. Those who were believing a false gospel inevitably began to bring shame upon the name of Christ by their lifestyle: they had become lazy, gluttonous, liars (1:12) who lives were not being characterized by purity, but impurity (1:15). Sadly, any profession of belonging to Christ was undermined by their Christless lifestyle (1:16), which, sadly, brought not honor to Christ and His gospel, but reproach (cf. 2:5, 10, 11-14; 3:1-11).

Sadly, in almost every letter in the NT, the issue of false teachers not only comes up, but is often emphasized because of its destructive nature in and upon the church.

- For example, in Paul’s introduction in his letter to the Galatians, he foregoes the common formalities of greeting his audience and immediately begins to chide the believers for their acceptance – and even promotion – of false teachers:

- “I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting Him who called you in the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel.”
- What is the source propagating this false gospel? Who is it who is “bewitching” (3:1) the church and deceiving into returning back to the weak and worthless elementary principles of religion and legalism? False teachers:
  - “Yet because of false brothers secretly brought in – who slipped in to spy out our freedom that we have in Christ Jesus, so that they might bring us into slavery – to them we did not yield in submission even for a moment, so that the truth of the gospel might be preserved for you” (2:4-5).
- Whenever we see Paul addressing himself as “an apostle” in his letters, it is because he needs to “pull rank” over the false teachers who are undermining him and the gospel he has preached.
  - This is because, in the words of the apostle Peter, false teachers despise biblical and apostolic authority (2 Peter 2:10; cf. Jude 6, 8).
- So dangerous are these false teachers that Jude foregoes not only epistolary formalities, he even has to postpone gospel exhortations to highlight the dangers these wolves in sheep’s clothing pose to the believers:
  - “Beloved, although I was very eager to write to you about our common salvation, I found it necessary to write appealing to you to contend for the faith that was once for all delivered to the saints. For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ” (Jude 3-4).
- The believers ought not to be surprised, for, as Jude reminds them, one of the primary messages of the apostles was to forewarn the saints that false teachers would continually be bombarding the church with her pernicious teachings:

- “But you must remember, beloved, the predictions of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. They said to you, ‘In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions.’ It is these who cause divisions, worldly people, devoid of the Spirit” (Jude 17-19).
- The apostles were simply reteaching what our Lord Himself taught:
  - “Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep’s clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. You will recognize them by their fruits. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes, or figs from thistles? So, every healthy tree bears good fruit, but the diseased tree bears bad fruit. A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a diseased tree bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Thus you will recognize them by their fruits” (Matthew 7:15-20).

In addition to their aberrant (and abhorrent) teachings being exposed by those who are “noble Bereans” (cf. Acts 17:11), false teachers can be recognized by their “fruit.”

- The most common explanation of “fruit” is simply their lifestyle. That is, their actions are inconsistent with who the God of the Bible is, and what He demands of His Spirit-empowered people.
  - For example, false teachers “pervert” God’s grace (Jude 4). This grotesque perversion of grace manifests itself in one of two ways:
    1. Godless licentiousness. Or, as Jude says, “sensuality.”
      - That is, because God is so loving, sin isn’t really a big deal to Him.
        - False teachers not only teach greasy grace; they live it out.

→ Which is why holiness is an absolute, non-negotiable for those who are entrusted with the teaching and shepherding of God's people (1 Timothy 3:1-7; Titus 1:6-9).

2. Christless legalism.

- In Galatia, the perversion of grace meant "adding" to Christ's gospel the prerequisite keeping of rules and regulations (e.g. circumcision) necessary for salvation.

→ This was no small issue for the apostle. Those who teach that God's sovereign grace in Christ for salvation is insufficient are "anathema," that is under God's curse (Galatians 1:8, 9).

- Three evident fruits that flow out of the unregenerate hearts of false teachers are the love of money, sex, and power.<sup>4</sup>

1. Money

- For some reason, leaders, generally speaking, seem to have a peculiar temptation to be "greedy for gain" (Titus 1:7; cf. 1 Peter) and "a lover of money" (1 Timothy 3:3).

- "But false also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. And many will follow their sensuality, and because of them the way of truth will be blasphemed. And in their greed they will exploit you with false words" (2 Peter 2:1-3).

- "Yet in like manner these people also, relying on their dreams, defile the flesh, reject authority, and blaspheme the glorious ones...and are destroyed by all that they, like unreasoning animals, understand instinctively. Woe to them! For they walked in the way of Cain and abandoned themselves for the sake of gain to Balaam's error and perished in Korah's rebellion" (Jude 8-11).

- "Teach and urge these things. If anyone teaches a different doctrine and does not agree with the sound [lit. "healthy"] words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching that accords with godliness [cf. Titus 1:2], he is puffed up with conceit and understands nothing. He has an unhealthy craving for controversy and for quarrels about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, evil suspicions, and constant friction among people who are depraved in mind and deprived of truth, imagining that religion<sup>5</sup> is a means of gain. But godliness with contentment is great gain" (1 Timothy 6:2-6).
- "No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. Now<sup>6</sup> the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things, and they ridiculed Him. So He said to them, 'You are those who justify yourselves before men, but God knows your hearts. For what is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God'" (Luke 16:13-15).
- We must not relegate the greed of false teachers only to the NT, for the OT is rife with examples as well:

<sup>5</sup> The ESV, with most other English versions, translates the Greek word (εὐσέβειαν, eusebeian) as "godliness." BDAG says this word connotes "reverence towards God" [e.g. "piety"], but the context of 1 and 2 Timothy, along with the rest of the Bible, shows that this "reverence" shown is merely a façade before people (e.g. Isaiah 1:10-20; 29:13-21; etc.). Though they may "whitewash" their outsides (Matthew 23:2-3, 25, 27, 29), their deeds are performed only "to be seen by others" (23:5; cf. 6:1, 5, 16). Though they may appear gentle like sheep on the outside, they are in actuality ravenous wolves on the inside (7:15).

<sup>6</sup> The ESV, like most other English versions, unfortunately does not include the "Now" (δὲ, de), which highlights the contrast of the Pharisees, who though seemingly pious (euseibian) on the outside, nevertheless were Mammon-worshippers on the inside.

- “The word of the LORD came to me: ‘Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy, and say to them, even to the shepherds, Thus says the Sovereign LORD: Ah,<sup>7</sup> shepherds of Israel who have been feeding yourselves! Should not the shepherds feed the sheep? You eat the fat, you clothe yourselves with the wool, you slaughter the fat ones, but you do not feed the sheep’” (Ezekiel 34:1-3).
- “Thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who lead My people astray, who cry “Peace” when they have something to eat, but declare war against him who puts nothing in their mouths” (Micah 3:5). “Their heads give judgment for a bribe; its priests teach for a price; its prophets practice divination for money; yet they lean on the LORD and say, ‘Is not the LORD in our midst? No disaster shall come upon us.’ Therefore because of you Zion shall be plowed as a field; Jerusalem shall become a heap of ruins, and the mountain of the house a wooded height” (3:11-13).

2. Sex

- “But understand this, that in the last days there will come times of difficulty. For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, proud, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, heartless, unappeasable, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not loving good, treacherous, reckless, swollen with conceit, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, having the appearance of godliness (εὐσεβείαν, eusebeian), but denying its power. Avoid such people. For among them are those who creep into households and capture weak women, burdened with sins and led astray by various <sup>7</sup> The Hebrew הוֹי (hoy) is often translated “Woe!” (cf. NET, CSB, NASB, NIV). The word was used in funeral laments (cf. 1 Kings 13:30; Jer. 22:18; 34:5) and [often] carries the connotation of death and judgment.

passions, always learning but never able to arrive at a knowledge of the truth. Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these men also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind and disqualified regarding the faith. But they will not get very far, for their folly will be plain (ἐκδηλος) to all,<sup>8</sup> as was that of those two men” (2 Timothy 3:1-9).

→ Though these verses apply to and characterize unbelievers in general, the context of 1 and 2 Timothy clearly shows that Paul particularly has false teachers in mind in these verses.<sup>9</sup>

- Jesus also addresses – and rebukes – the church for her casual indifference to the proliferation and acceptance of false teachers in her midst, especially those who unashamedly teach and encourage, as well as brazenly practice, sexual immorality.

→ “But I have a few things against you: you have some there who hold the teaching of Balaam,<sup>10</sup> who taught Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, so that they might eat food sacrificed to idols and practice sexual immorality. So also you have some who hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans. Therefore repent. If not, I will come to you soon and war

<sup>8</sup> Cf. 1 Timothy 5:24-25, where Paul is specifically talking about pastors and teachers, whose “fruit” – whether good or bad – will become conspicuous (πρόδηλος) over time.

<sup>9</sup> Note the immediately preceding verses: “And the Lord’s servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, and they may come to their senses and escape the snare of the devil, having been captured by him to do his will (2:24-26). Also note the following context in the next chapter: “For the time is coming when people will not endure sound [lit. “healthy”] teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate [lit. “heap up”] for themselves teachers to suit their own passions, and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander off into myths” (4:3-4).

<sup>10</sup> Interestingly, the account being referenced shows that though Balaam couldn’t bring Israel down through cursing, he could through sexual immorality. Sadly, Israel believed his lie, and engaged in large-scale sexual immorality, infamously known as their “sin at Baal-Peor” (cf. Numbers 25:1-3). Interestingly, those who were held most accountable were the leaders, who were publicly executed to serve as a warning to others of the dangers of idolatry (v.4).

against them with the sword of My mouth.” (Revelation 2:14-17).

→ “I know your works, your love and faith and service and patient endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first. But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing My servants to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols.” (Revelation 2:19-20).

- Speaking of false teachers who have garnered a following within the church, the apostle Peter says, “They count it pleasure to revel in the daytime. They are blots and blemishes, reveling in their deceptions, while they feast with you. They have eyes full of adultery, insatiable for sin. They entice unsteady souls. They have hearts trained in greed. Accursed children! Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray...These are waterless springs and mists driven by a storm. For them the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved. For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error. They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption” (2 Peter 2:13-15, 17-19).

3. Power (and Popularity)

- This seems to be one of the most dominant motivations of the false teachers who had infiltrated the Galatian churches:
  - “They [i.e. the false teachers] make much of you, but for no good purpose. They want to shut you out, that you may make much of them” (Galatians 4:17).
  - “It is those who want to make a good showing in the flesh who would force you to be circumcised...For even those who are circumcised do not themselves keep the law, but they desire to have you circumcised that they may boast in your flesh” (Galatians 6:12-13).

- This is especially clear of the false “super apostles” who were more concerned about commending themselves (2 Cor. 10:12) and preaching themselves (2 Cor. 4:5) than they were about preaching Christ crucified (2 Cor. 4:4; cf. 1 Cor. 2:2).
  - Rather than boasting in Christ and His cross (cf. Gal. 6:13) they were preoccupied in their self-boasting (2 Cor. 10:17).
  - These false leaders had made the believers their functional slaves and were abusing their ‘power’ and taking advantage of the well-meaning believers (2 Cor. 11:20; cf. 12:17).<sup>11</sup>
- This is perhaps most clearly seen in the religious elite who opposed, and, ultimately crucified, the Messiah:
  - Whether praying publicly (Matt. 6:5), fasting publicly (6:16, 18), or even publicly giving alms to the poor (6:2), Jesus says that these “hypocrites” were only doing to so for the praise and esteem of man (6:2, 5, 16).
  - “They do all their deeds to be seen by others. For they make their phylacteries broad and their fringes long, and they love the place of honor at feasts and the best seats in the synagogues and greetings in the marketplaces and being called rabbi by others” (23:5-7).<sup>12</sup>

The Increase of False Teachers in the Last Days

<sup>11</sup> This was just as true of many of the corrupt OT leaders, whether kings, elders, ‘prophets’, or priests (for e.g. see Micah 3:1-3).

<sup>12</sup> Jesus says they also loved to be called and esteemed as “fathers” (24:9) and “instructors” (24:10). That their pride is being denounced is clear from the very next verses: “The greatest among you shall be your servant. Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted” (24:11-12).

According to the prophet Daniel, with the establishment of God's eternal kingdom comes the surprising end-time presence of Israel's antagonist. In the "latter days" an evil figure will arrive on the scene directly before the coming of Israel's kingdom, who will bring about large-scale deception and persecution within the covenant community.<sup>13</sup>

It is in 2 Thessalonians that Paul addresses how important it is for Christians to have a biblical understanding of the end-times before Christ's imminent return:

Now concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered to Him, we ask you, brothers and sisters, not to be quickly shaken in mind or alarmed, either by a spirit or a spoken word, or a letter seeming to be from us, to the effect that the day of the LORD has come. Let no one deceive you in any way. For that day will not come, unless the rebellion comes first, and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the son of destruction, who opposes and exalts himself against every so-called god or object of worship, so that he takes his seat in the temple of God, proclaiming himself to be God. Do you not remember that when I was still you I told you these things? And you know what is restraining him now so that he may be revealed in his time. For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work. Only he who now restrains it will do so until he is out of the way. (2 Thessalonians 2:1-7)

As Beale notes,

Paul most likely used 2 Thessalonians to correct the Thessalonians' aberrant view of eschatology because they did not completely understand his teaching in 1 Thessalonians. In 1 Thessalonians Paul corrects those who have set up timetables for Christ's return, explaining why the Thessalonians appear lethargic (1 Thes. 5:12-14). In order to curb their idle behavior, Paul thus warns them that the Day of the Lord is imminent (1 Thes. 5:2-4).

<sup>13</sup> Much of this material is adapted from G.K. Beale and Benjamin Gladd, Hidden But Now Revealed: A Biblical Theology of Mystery (Downers Grove, IL: IVP Academic, 2014), 215-36.

Contrary to what the false teachers were promoting and propagating, the Day of the Lord had not come, for says Paul, two events must first happen: “the coming apostasy” and “the man of lawlessness revealed” (2 Thes. 2:3b).

- The coming apostasy (ESV = “rebellion”) likely refers to a large scale falling away by many who claim to belong to the coming community.<sup>14</sup>
- The man of lawlessness clearly is referring the coming antichrist.<sup>15</sup>

Though these two events have not yet occurred, Paul reminds and warns the believers that though the man of lawlessness has not yet physically come, the spirit of lawlessness is nevertheless already at work and attacking the church.<sup>16</sup>

According to Daniel, Israel’s antagonist will come to desecrate her sanctuary:

- “Forces from him will arise, desecrate the sanctuary fortress, and do away with the regular sacrifice. And they will set up the abomination of desolation” (11:31, NASB; cf. 12:11).

Again, Beale’s insights are helpful:

[Daniel] describes the end-time oppressor entering Israel’s temple precinct and defiling the sanctuary, actions initially fulfilled by Antiochus IV in 167 B.C. With this in mind, Paul says in 2 Thessalonians 2:4 that the antichrist will “take his seat in the temple of God.” Though

<sup>14</sup> Paul is clearly alluding to Daniel 11:31-35, which foretells of a coming “king” who will “seduce with flattery” many professing believers. Thankfully the prophet reminds us that YHWH, in His sovereign covenant faithfulness, will preserve and refine His elect in and through this.

<sup>16</sup> In the words of Beale: “The end-time persecutor in Daniel was to appear to the covenant community in his full bodily presence, yet Paul argues that the antagonist is nevertheless surprisingly “already at work” in the community, though he is not bodily present.” See Hidden but now Revealed, 223.

heavily debated among scholars, it is likely that the “temple’ (naos) here does not refer to a rebuilt, physical temple in Jerusalem in the future. Rather, “temple” (naos) refers to the community of believers, the church.<sup>17</sup> In other words, the antichrist will assume a position of authority in the church and thereby promulgate widespread deception. This event predicted in 2 Thessalonians 2:3-4 will be a fulfillment of the tyrant “setting up the abomination of desolation” in the temple.<sup>18</sup>

The “mystery” Paul wants the believers to understand is that this satanic end-time deception, which will be culminated with the coming of the antichrist is already at work in God’s temple, that is, the church.

The question we need to ask is, “HOW?”

- The answer is simple: false teachers.
  - The antichrist’s spiritual presence and deceiving activity comes through the agency of his allies, the false teachers, which Daniel had also predicted would come.

As Beale says,

This end-time fiend infuses his emissaries with his spirit, so that they do his will; he is accordingly their representative and they are his representatives on earth until he comes in person...Just as believers represent the “body of Christ” on earth, so unbelieving false teachers in the church represent the body on antichrist on earth.

This is exactly what the apostle John warned the believers in Ephesus:

<sup>17</sup> See 1 Corinthians 3:16-17; 2 Corinthians 6:16; Ephesians 2:19-21; 1 Peter 2:4-7; Revelation 3:12; 21:22.

- “Children, it is the last hour, and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have come. Therefore we know that it is the last hour” (1 John 2:18).
- “Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world...This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already” (4:1, 3).

Paul also warns Timothy, who is stationed in Ephesus, to beware of false teachers, who need to “come to their senses and escape from the snare of the devil, who have been captured by him to do his will (2 Timothy 2:26).

Paul also has to warn the Corinthian church that Satan is currently attacking them through his deceptive emissaries:

- “But I am afraid that as the serpent deceived Eve by his cunning, your thoughts will be led astray from a sincere and pure devotion to Christ. For if someone comes and proclaims another Jesus than the one we proclaimed, or if you receive a different spirit from the one you accepted, you put up with it readily enough” (2 Corinthians 11:3-4).
- “And indeed what I am doing I will continue to do, in order to undermine the claim of those who would like to claim that in their boasted mission they work on the same terms as we do. For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ. And no wonder, for even Satan disguises himself as an angel of light. So it is no surprise if his servants, also, disguise themselves as servants of righteousness. Their end will correspond to their deeds” (11:12-15).

Application:

The words of Beale cannot be improved upon:

Some Christians today think that, since the antichrist is not yet here physically and the future great tribulation has not yet started, then they cannot be affected by his deceptive activity. Christians living during the church age, however, should not think that they are immune from the deceptions of the antichrist to come in the great tribulation, since in fact the antichrist has already begun to manifest himself. This is also indication that the great tribulation itself has also commenced. The final fulfillment of this end-time tribulation will intensify the persecution and deception that is already happening during the church age.

The only thing that could protect the Thessalonians from deception in Paul's time and believers in our own time is to remember vigilantly the Word of God. We must "remember" it (2:6) and "stand firm" in it and "hold to" (2:15)...Persevering in the truthfulness of the gospel will prevent the antichrist's influence through false teaching.<sup>19</sup>

May God, in His great and preserving grace, enable us to increasingly cultivate a "Berean spirit."

- "Now these Jews were more noble than those in Thessalonica; they received the Word with all eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily to see if these things were so. Therefore, many of them believed" (Acts 17:11-12).

Conclusion:

Perhaps there is not better or fitting way to close than to quote John MacArthur, a man who has committed his life to guarding and defending the Word of God in and for the church:

The dominant strategy of Satan since the creation of the world has been to undermine trust in God's Word. It started in the Garden of Eden when he asked Eve, "Has God said?" In that devious, highly consequential question he was casting doubt on God's Word, and he hasn't stopped doing since.

From that point forward, Satan's objective has been to lead as many people possible to eternal destruction. And what has been the focal point of his attack on people's souls? Fomenting unbelief in and rejection of God's Word. Undermining people's confidence in the objective truth of Scripture, thereby taking away their only hope of salvation. "Has God said?" has become the battle cry of the entire world system in which we live.<sup>20</sup>
