

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)

Overview of Ezra-Nehemiah

I. Timeline summary

- 586 BC The Babylonians destroy Jerusalem and bring all Judah into exile.
- 539 BC (Ezra 1–2) Cyrus king of Persia conquers Babylon and makes a decree that Israel can go back to the land; the first group returns under Sheshbazzar.
- 515 BC (Ezra 3–6; Hag; Zech) Zerubbabel (a descendant of David) and Joshua (a priest) finish the temple under the prophetic ministry of Haggai and Zechariah.
- 470's BC (Esther) Esther becomes queen of Persia
- 458 BC (Ezra 7–10) Ezra returns to Jerusalem.
- 445 BC (Neh 1–12) Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem; wall rebuilt.
- Sometime between 433 and 333: Malachi and Chronicles are written.

II. Basic story of the book

- Prologue: the return (Ezra 1–2)
- Three building projects:
 1. The Temple (Ezra 3–6)
 2. The People under the Law (Ezra 7–10; Neh 7:1–12:26)
 3. The Wall (Neh 1–6)
- Final dedication, celebrating all three (Neh 12:27–13:3)
- A discouraging epilogue (Neh 13:4–31)