Sermon: "Samson All Ritual No Spirit" Pt.6- What's Wrong With You People? Pt. 45

I Text:

Old Covenant: Judges 16

New Covenant: 1 John 2:15-17

II Doctrine:

In the last sermon on the Samson narrative, we will see Samson's life encapsulates the Book of Judges. Samson is an illustration of the cycle of sin and deliverance, the Hebrew nation lives through. Judges chapter sixteen shows Samson's sin, oppression, repentance, and deliverance. The cycle starts with Samson the nazirite sleeping with a prostitute. (

Unable to subdue his fleshly lusts, Samson's oppression begins when he meets Delilah. First spiritually defeated and then physically defeated, Samson ends up processing grain in prison. Without the power of the indwelling Holy Spirit the strongest of men are complete weaklings. Mankind since the fall has been subdued with the same three primal forces of sin. The lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life defeats all of us, without Christ Jesus.

Samson embodying the Hebrew nation completes his life with dramatic repentance and deliverance, ending the cycle of sin he was trapped in. God in his mercy fulfills his divine providence brilliantly. With one push of the pillars, God delivers his servant from the misery of his sins, destroys his enemies, and glorifies his name!

III Comparing Scripture With Scripture:

1) In the last sermon on the Samson narrative, we will see Samson's life encapsulates the Book of Judges. Samson is an illustration of the cycle of sin and deliverance, the Hebrew nation lives through. Judges chapter sixteen shows Samson's sin, oppression, repentance, and deliverance. The cycle starts with Samson the nazirite sleeping with a prostitute. (Judges 16:1-3)

2) Unable to subdue his fleshly lusts, Samson's oppression begins when he meets Delilah. First spiritually defeated and then physically defeated, Samson ends up processing grain in prison. Without the power of the indwelling Holy Spirit the strongest of men are complete weaklings. Mankind since the fall has been subdued with the same three primal forces of sin. The lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life defeats all of us, without Christ Jesus. (1 John 2:15-17; Judges 16:4-22)

3) Samson embodying the Hebrew nation completes his life with dramatic repentance and deliverance, ending the cycle of sin he was trapped in. God in his mercy fulfills his divine providence brilliantly. With one push of the pillars, God delivers his servant from the misery of his sins, destroys his enemies, and glorifies his name!

(Judges 16:23-31; Genesis 3:1-7)
