

GOSPEL OF MARK
Divorce and Remarriage
Mark 10:1-12

Mac Williams, Pastor
May 4, 2014

1. What _____ is.
- a. Divorce is the _____ of the marriage covenant.
 - b. Divorce is a _____ institution though it is recognized, permitted, and regulated in the Bible.
 - c. Because of the foundational and sacred importance of marriage, divorce should _____ be considered except on the grounds of marital unfaithfulness.

2. Key _____ when considering a divorce.
- a. The issue of two _____ marrying and the struggles that will result.
 - b. The issue of _____ God.

c. The issue of a _____ heart.

3. The possibility of _____.

- a. Remarriage is permissible for those who have been divorced on _____ grounds.
- b. One who has been unbiblically divorced should either remain _____ or pursue reconciliation with their former spouse.
- c. An unbiblical divorce causes one to commit adultery if they _____.

"While the marriage is truly broken (and no rights, privileges, or obligations of marriage are permitted or required at this point), nevertheless the divorced parties have _____ right in God's eyes to be in a divorced state." - Jay Adams

d. Though _____ is a reality in unbiblical approaches to divorce and remarriage--in Christ, where sin abounds grace abounds all the more.

"Divorce, even when proper, always is occasioned by someone's _____. At its best, then, divorce always brings misery and hurt. That is why God hates it. But, even one who sinfully obtains a divorce can be forgiven, cleansed, and restored to Christ's church." - Jay Adams