Ordination of Pastor Mark Richmond

7 May at 1:30pm

Over the centuries local churches have had the privilege of following in the pattern set by the Church in Antioch. The Holy Spirit selected two of their members, Paul and Barnabas, for the work of preaching the Gospel (Acts 13:2). That congregation prayed for them, laid hands on them, and sent them out (Acts 13:3). The “laying on of hands” signified the church’s confidence in God’s calling and confirmation of their qualifications and abilities. The members of the Jerusalem church did something similar by choosing seven men for ministry (Acts 6:5), and the apostles prayed and laid their hands on them (Acts 6:6). Paul’s ministry companion Timothy also experienced this kind of confirmation. When ministry was difficult, Paul commanded him, “Do not neglect the gift you have when the council of elders laid their hands on you” (1 Tim 4:14). And a couple years later Paul reminded him, “Stir up the gift of God which is in you through the laying on of my hands.” Paul and a group of church elders had confirmed Timothy’s God-given abilities for ministry, and Timothy was charged to faithfully use those gifts.

Although there is no detailed prescription in the New Testament for an ordination ceremony, there is a long-standing tradition of local churches affirming a man’s qualifications and gifts for pastoral ministry. This afternoon we are recognizing that Mark Richmond gives evidence of God’s call. A council of pastors met to discern his understanding of biblical doctrine. And more importantly, the members of Meadowlands Baptist Church have observed his godly character, watched his faithful service, and heard his biblical teaching. As part of this special service, each member will be given a ballot to affirm your confidence in Mark’s qualifications for ministry. After a charge from God’s Word, our pastors and deacons will lay hands on Mark as we pray for God to use him in the service to which he is called.
