

ISAIAH

The Holy One of Israel

Comfort for God's Exiles: "The Glory of the Lord Shall Be Revealed

God will Free His People for His Own Sake

Isaiah 48:1-11

PASTOR'S PRAYER

Almighty God, Our Redeemer--the LORD of hosts is your name--you are the Holy One of Israel. Lord you are our only peace and comfort. We confess our lives are too often marked by fear, anxiety, worry, frustration, weariness. We mope around complaining and discontent, dissatisfied. Lord, grant us ears to hear this morning. Cause us to listen and draw near to your promises as you reveal yourself to us this morning. Thank you for being our Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel. Thank you for revealing yourself to us this morning & promising us peace like a river for all who repent and trust Christ, our Suffering Servant and Prince of peace. Grant us, I pray, steadfast faith in Christ and Him crushed for our iniquities, confident hope in your kingdom come and abiding love for your weary saints. Fill us with your peace and your comfort we pray, Lord Jesus. Amen & Amen.

OUTLINE

1. Our Persistent Problem (vv. 1-11)
2. God's Persistent Promise (vv. 12-22)

Central Textual Truth

Isaiah wanted God's people hear God's Word & live in confident peace.

Central Sermon Aim

I want SGBC to hear the gospel & live in confident peace.