

“The Dew Of Your Youth”

The Astounding Promises Of The LORD To David's Lord

1 Chron. 17 (348); Psalm 110 (509)

This remarkable Royal Psalm is simply the most-quoted psalm in the entire Bible! It speaks clearly in a predictive manner of the Christ who is to come, and pours out layer upon layer of divine promises that come to fruition in the Gospel's effect in the New Testament church. The Triune God is calling a “army” of young people to dedicate themselves body and soul to his magnificent kingdom purpose. Understand the context. Comprehend the promises. Dedicate yourself to the service of this remarkable Messiah who will consummately display God's exacting justice and his abounding mercy!

I. The Holy _____ In This Text (title, v 1a)

1. The authorship of this Psalm is critical for its _____ (Ref Study Bible).
2. Line _____ draws us into the mysteries of the _____.
3. David sat on “the throne of the _____” (1 Ch. 29:23), but looks to _____!?!

II. The Holy _____ In This Text (v 1b-4)

1. The _____ words draw us into the _____ of heaven.
2. See the _____ divine promises as they come to pass in the _____.
3. It is the _____ of Christ that changes our hearts, making them _____!

III. The Holy _____ In This Text (v 5-7, 3)

1. The Father has “_____ all _____ to the Son” (Jn. 5:22).
2. This psalm may well be a foundation of texts like _____ 25 and Revelation 20.
3. Consider: what tributary do you know that runs by _____?
4. APPLICATION: Consider the _____ of discipleship. _____ yourself _____.
5. APPLICATION: Dedicate your _____ and _____ to Jesus Christ.